

What is Markdown?

its the backbone of almost everything on the web it uses plain text and special characters to add formatting to documents

What is Git?

its a "version control system" or VCS that tracks and manages changes in computer files which allows me or a team to collaborate on a project

What is GitHub?

GitHub is a platform for hosting and managing software projects that can be shared with other people

What is Slack?

Slack is a messaging platform that our class would use to contact you in any situation we encounter and is the best way to get into contact with you